Not illustrated. 1870 Excerpt: .when they presented to Ptolemy Philadelphus (who died B.C. 247) a roll of their laws written in golden letters, the king stood wondering for a long time at the thinness of the skins and the invisibility of the joinings. They were far ahead of the Athenians, who, as late as A.D. 407, erected a statue to Phillatius for teaching them the art of gluing. In the time of Augustus books, still in the form of rolls, were abundant and surprisingly low-priced. Horace informs us, in his epistle ad librum suum, that the Sosii were his publishers; he seems to complain of his works getting into the hands of the common people and becoming school books. In his Ars Poetica he writes of a poet rich in lands, rich in money laid out at interest; a proof that authorship was sometimes a lucrative profession. Martial tells that...
